

ART-IN-SITE

Recent Project by
Chandra Cerrito / Art Advisors

Public Art
Trinity Place Phase 4, San Francisco

Image: Richard Deutsch, Victoria, 2021. Stainless steel, marble, granite paving design.

Chandra Cerrito / Art Advisors is pleased to share new site-specific artworks recently installed as part of the last phase of Trinity Place, a 4-tower residential and mixed-use development at Market and Eighth Streets in San Francisco. CC/AA has had the honor to lead the public art program at Trinity Place since 2013.

Richard Deutsch's new work Victoria (above and right) serves as a gateway to the project from Eighth Street. This monumental sculpture sensitively complements the beautifully designed outdoor space and its extensive, site-integrated artwork by Lawrence Argent, which was partially installed in 2016. Victoria reflects Deutsch's deep appreciation of Roman art, classical sculpture, and stone. This appreciation, shared by both Argent and the developer's founder, also inspired Argent's vision for public art at Trinity Place.

Lawrence Argent's multifaceted work, C'era Una Volta, is now completed with its final artwork components installed. After the artist's untimely passing in 2017, Chandra Cerrito worked closely with the developer and a representative from the artist's studio to complete four glass sculptures and a granite mosaic designed by Argent. In the artist's absence, Cerrito took on an active role in the artwork production. She went to Italy to help scan images of ancient and neoclassical statues that would be envisioned within the glass sculptures, and she traveled to China to help assess and engage the glass fabricator. Cerrito helped oversee the production of CAD designs, sculpture mock-ups, and the final works. It was a humbling and bittersweet experience to carry out the vision of an extraordinarily talented artist who had become a beloved friend.

Images: Lawrence Argent, C'era Una Volta, 2016/2021. Details showing glass sculptures and granite mosaic paving.

Visit our website